

Calling All Biology Students-

A great opportunity awaits you within the Department of Biological Sciences in the form of BIO 407 – Practicum in Biology Laboratory Teaching. Teach Biology and Society (BIO 102) laboratories and reap the following benefits:

- Gain experience to add to your resume.
- Work directly with graduate students and faculty to foster great recommendations and references.
- Gain credit while you learn valuable skills.
- Solidify your knowledge in general biological concepts.
- Course materials and resources provided for you to keep.

There are a limited number of positions available, so apply now to take BIO 407 – Practicum in Biology Laboratory Teaching, before the course fills and you miss out on a great opportunity to practice some skills while you earn credit toward your degree and gain experience to add to your resume.

If you're planning on a career in teaching, heading to graduate school, or you just want teaching experience, this course is for you! Contact Jill Johnson; LSS 353, 885-6185, or by email, jmjohn@uidaho.edu, or contact Dr. Angela Brown, LSS 353A, 885-6494, or email, abrown@uidaho.edu, and discover how we can help you in the pursuit of a great educational experience. We hope to see you soon, as an Undergraduate TA.

Jill M. Johnson
Laboratory Curriculum Coordinator

Dr. Angela Brown
Instructor